The recent explosion of the space shuttle, the Gander and Lebanon disasters, plight of the American farmer, the problem of the Christian white minority in South Africa, the possibility of atomic destruction of the earth, the decline of patriotism, the decline of Christian morality, the spread of atheistic Marxism and Communism, the drug and alcohol culture, the loss of freedom, and a multitude of other considerations facing everyone in 1986 is sufficient to cause man to seek refuge and to abandon the search for solutions. Is there a solution? What is the committed Christian to do?

As I view most of my medical school classmates leaving practice for retirement and as I see Medicine being turned over to big business, HMO’s, government and to an increasing degree to foreign physicians (usually non-Christians) I am alarmed. In a time when mankind in general and doctors in particular are facing the most profound moral and ethical problems ever known to man, we find ourselves the least prepared to give any logical or more importantly, spiritual answers. The Medical profession has practiced increasing professional atheism throughout my experience. (44 years including medical school) God and Jesus Christ have been relegated to the church structure and have not been allowed into hospitals, medical schools and most physicians' offices except on an extremely limited basis.

The day of the free individual American is just about past. Strangely enough, this has occurred during a Republican administration when our President is a professing Christian as was the President before him. One wonders who really runs our nation? Who rules the world? Is there any way of stopping the onrushing tide of atheistic and socialistic changes?

The average American is mesmerized by television, network newscasting, alcohol consumption, disintegrating morality and conformism. Our churches have become victims of intellectualism and psychic invasion. Our schools are humanistic believing more in behavior modification than basic education. Due to the overspecialization of our society through computerization, electrical power and gasoline powered transportation, we are in grave danger should any major form of destruction strike our nation. With no power how would we have heat or refrigeration or food or transportation? The western world is exceedingly vulnerable and very few are the voices raised in alarm. Rev. Joe Morecraft a minister recently said at a CMF meeting in North Georgia —"There are no doctors in the front lines." There are also very few lawyers, teachers and preachers! Some preachers have been sounding the alarm but they are supported only by a minority.

A recent Gallup poll reported that 75% of Americans claim to be Christian. Most of these citizens must be asleep or have already thrown their hands in the air in despair. Some are in support of liberation theology (Marxism). Some are the dupes of Communism or occultism. Other surveys report that a majority of Episcopal clergy are liberal and their congregations, conservative. We have seen the Book of Common Prayer radicalized, homosexual priests and even women homosexual priests allowed to be ordained. Our state and national political representation is largely liberal whereas the populace is conservative. Neither church nor government would appear to care what the people really want.

As a result of all of this, great movements have sprung forth from the people themselves. Ministries having no roots in theological seminaries have become increasingly popular. Lay organizations have brought forth reconsideration of New Testament Christianity and morality. Among these are the Full Gospel Business Men, Women's Aglow, CEO, and those with loose ties with the organized Church such as OSL, Ashram movement, Faith at Work Councils, CBMC, Gideons, Youth for Christ, Fellowship of Christian Athletes etc. Resulting from these positive thrusts have come about Oral Roberts University, CBN, PTL, Moral Majority, the Christian School movement, and a massive increase in growth of Pentecostal churches especially the Assembly of God and the Church of God. Other ministries such as Rhema, The Kenneth Copeland Ministry, Jimmy Swaggart, Fred Price, to mention a few have shown phenomenal growth and increasing influence. Despite these phenomena, the cause of Christ in our time will not go forward until the traditional American churches come back to committed Christianity.

But it is too late. All committed Christians must take hold of the helm of our floundering nation. Christian voices must be heard. Through CMF and allied groups, I personally have spoken literally thousands of times at great personal cost over the past twenty-five years calling American and Canadian men and women out of their complacency and conformism. A university professor who is head of his department, recently wrote to us stating, "CMF may be the last hope for preserving traditional American Medicine." Other truly Christian groups similarly are called now to recapture and preserve traditional Christian Americanism no matter what the cost in life or finance. The hour is late. Will we respond? The republic will not survive unless it remains vitally Christ-centered. Atheistic capitalism is as destructive to humanity as atheistic communism.

Consider: turning off the TV. — Go to truly Bible believing, Jesus proclaiming churches—attend and support Christ-centered spiritual organizations—go to truly Christian doctors, lawyers and support Christian businesses—elect Bible believing true Christians to office. Begin to make your voice heard in the church, the school board, at city hall and the county building. Begin to lobby in the political arena. Insist on Christian Medical care. Buy American, Canadian and "Western world" goods. Combat Communist aggression in the Americas including "Liberation Theology." Combat the sale of American farms, land and businesses to non-Christian foreigners. Re-establish American farms and industry. It is time for the American man to stand up! It is also important to prepare a place of refuge where you can sustain yourself and your family in the event of catastrophe. Begin to be led by God's Word and prayer. Learn to listen to God's voice.

FINANCIAL REPORT

As a result of our year end appeal, Christian Medical Foundation entered 1986 with all running expenses paid. We also have no mortgages and only our copier being paid for on time. This indeed is a most laudable situation for which we thank the Lord. In previous correspondence, those of you who follow CMF know that it costs approximately $19,000 per month to run the Foundation. This means that friends of Christian Medical Foundation who believe in this work are asked to contribute over and above their church tithe in order to allow us to keep our bills current and paid. Unfortunately it seems that we must make special appeals from time to time in order to meet month by month the deficits. In January the income of Christian Medical Foundation was $9,994.66. In February up until the time of this newsletter going to the printer the income was $10,209.97. If everyone who receives the newsletter would contribute a small amount on a consistent basis, this problem would be taken care of. I urge you to prayerfully consider this and try to make a monthly gift of at least $10.00 to CMF in order to allow us to send out our newsletter and keep our running expenses and salaries paid. In this way you can help CMF to win doctors and nurses across the United States and Canada to a deeper commitment of their life and practice to the Lord Jesus Christ and to the ministry of healing. May the Lord richly bless all of you who have helped. For those of you who have never helped, you might give consideration to what I feel is one of the most legitimate causes in Christianity today, one in which annual audits are held and one in which you can receive details as to your giving to the Foundation going back for at least 25 years. Very few Christian organizations can make such a statement. May Jesus bless you as you contemplate these items.

Letters

excerpted from a recent letter from David D. Vause M.D., M.P.H. Blanco, Texas

"We have been so blessed by the CMF meetings and the teaching and ministry there. This past October was an especially powerful time of drawing close to the Father and experiencing the teaching of the Holy Spirit. I was impressed with the need in our medical schools for Christian fellowship for the young people that God is calling into medicine. I think I had begun to despair that perhaps God had quit calling people into American Medicine. Most of what I had been hearing of our crisis and our problems was so dismal that I frequently just felt near to giving up on medicine. The CMF meeting was a clear demonstration that God is the same, yesterday, today and forever. He continues to desire his children to draw near to Him and to minister His healing. The world's humanistic technical adventures may be failing but Jesus is still the answer. We have been praying for and are about to start a fellowship in San Antonio for medical students and residents to provide some of the CMF fellowship for them while in training."

Dear Friends of the Littlest Angel,

Spring is here in sunny Florida. Many of our friends are here from the north for the winter. This is always a happy time, seeing old friends and meeting new ones and spiritual blessings are overflowing here at CMF.

Bill and I told you last month about the wonderful supply of stained glass angels that came in unexpectedly. I wondered if perhaps this was God's way of renovating the inside of the building on the property that we want to use for the Littlest Angel, giving us more space for enlarging our shop. We offered a beautiful stained glass angel (14" tall) to anyone who would donate $100.00 toward our building project. TO DATE — $4,000 has come in! We have lots of angels left and our goal to do the project is $15,000 to $20,000. Won't you be a part! Remember our purpose in having the shop is to help CMF's running expenses — so when you buy from us you are helping CMF. We have beautiful gifts for everyone in the family as well as good Christian books to help your spiritual life grow in Jesus. Let us make a selection for you. We will gift wrap and send it right off to you.

From time to time note our special selections in the newsletter as well as our book of the month. One day we will have a catalog. So many of you have asked but until then I will keep you posted.

Have a beautiful Spring....

Love, KAY
