A New Medicine?
By William Standish Reed, M.D.
President and Founder

Physician initially in the United States Naval Hospital at Great Lakes, Illinois. In every instance at Great Lakes, I felt that patient care was excellent.

Following Great Lakes, I was a navy doctor at The Naval Air Station at Santa Anna, California, and after that as a doctor at sea in the Pacific in two United States Navy vessels. I also observed patient care at two United States Navy hospitals in Hawaii. I saw nothing but excellence in my experience in the United States Navy.

Similarly, I was very impressed with the medical, surgical, and nursing care of patients at Grace Hospital in Detroit. In all areas of patient care including obstetrics. The individual care of patients was superb. I then practiced in Bay City, Michigan, where as a general practitioner; I was permitted to do both obstetrics and surgery. I was on the staff of three hospitals in Bay City where I truly considered patient care in every area to be excellent.

When I went to the University of Michigan for my surgical training, I truly felt that patient care was wonderful. The teaching of surgery and the art of medicine was beyond compare. It was at the University Hospital in the department of pathology that I began to learn of the spiritual consideration of patient care. Also, the scientific aspect of patient care at Ann Arbor was one of the highest ranked in America.

My surgical experience in Texas, Florida, and across America in my career has been always excellent. My patients have received immediate and wonderful total patient care in the many hospitals in America from coast to coast where I have observed and performed major surgery on many occasions.

By contrast, I have not been impressed with patient care in Poland, Austria, and Ethiopia. I have observed excellent patient care in the Bahamas, Trinidad, and Guatemala. I have been impressed by the doctors of England, Scotland, Canada, and Newfoundland but have not liked the political aspects of socialized medicine. Government influence on medical care is not to be even remotely considered in the care of the sick. Why fix something if it isn’t broken? Jesus help us in this consideration.

Exodus 34:12 says “Be very, very careful never to compromise with the people there in the land where you are going, for if you do, you will soon be following their evil ways. Instead, you must break down their heathen altars, smash the obelisks they worship, and cut down their shameful idols. For you must worship no other gods, but only Jehovah for he is a God who claims absolute loyalty and exclusive devotion.”

One day when I was employed at Adams Golf in Plano, TX, an applicant walked in looking for employment. His appearance was disheveled and disarrayed. He looked tired and weary. I noticed his hands moving calmly over his wrinkled clothing as if they were an iron pressing the wrinkled and worn attire he wore. I couldn’t help but notice his large ears. They folded like envelopes around his small-dark brownish face. His eyes were the color of Indian ink. They flashed like lightning as he stood so erect with shoulders squared as he smiled at me. It was obvious to me that he was a neophyte in our great United States of America but he was here in the land of freedom, the land of opportunity, and the land of hope. He was in the United States of America.

We live in the greatest Country in the world and as Standish said in his article “If it isn’t broken, why fix it”. And, as my dear mother used to say “When you take God out of our schools, churches, homes, and Government – our Country will cease to be a Country for the people and of the people”. Read “His-story”, the Bible, and read what happened when people chose another way.

Wake up America and turn back to God and His principles.
