CONCERNING EXPO '86 AND THE CROSSROADS PAVILION

Many of the readers of this newsletter are familiar with David Mainse' ONE HUNDRED HUNLEY STREET. Crossroads Christian Communications, Inc.—the company which broadcasts ONE HUNDRED HUNLEY STREET—will be Expo's sole religious exhibitor after a proposal for an interfaith pavilion (offered by the directorship of Expo '86) fell apart. After Crossroads Christian Communications, Inc. received approval to go ahead with the Christian Pavilion, adverse criticism was heard from Jewish, Muslim, Christian and other groups. As stated April 18, 1985 in the Toronto Star by Dan Smith, "Dr. Charles Paris, Regional Director of the Canadian Counsel of Christians and Jews, said, it is a deliberate slur on the non-fundamentalist, non-Christian traditions of Canadian Society." John Behrouz, representing the United Church of Canada, said, "Surely any international venture such as Expo—if there is to be a religious component—must represent the multi-faith nature of Canada."

Seemingly, the problem is that various religious groups because of their different approaches and varying concepts of religion—these so-called inter-faith groups exist in a state of relative confusion and inaction. They only seem to unite when there is a secular principle to be defended, such as support of abortion and homosexuality or opposition to capital punishment...all of which violate the Ten Commandments. Due to this lack of unity among the various denominations of the Church, there has sprung up across the world a new type of Christian who believes in Bible inerrancy. Most of these people have not been exposed to the seminaries where intellectualism has watered down faith over the centuries. People who do not truly uphold God, and disbelieve the power of Christ and reality of the Holy Spirit, have always been angered whenever Christians begin to exercise faith as spoken of in the Bible and God begins to bless their endeavors. Many great universities founded by Christians years ago have either become secular entirely, or have ceased to function. How wonderful it would be if the wealth and power of the Church would be directed toward building universities, hospitals and even television stations that proclaim Acts 1:8. "But ye shall receive power after the Holy Ghost is come upon you; and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, Judea and Samaria and unto the uttermost part of the earth." People want to hear about the Power of the Holy Spirit. This represents a great void in the lives of children and families across Canada and across the world. ONE HUNDRED HUNLEY STREET, KGFMF and CMF of Canada have begun to make a profound impact across Canada. Praise God for what David Mainse and his Crossroads people are doing. It is great to see what Christians can accomplish if they will follow the directions that Jesus is giving His Church through the Holy Spirit. We join with the many people of Canada in general in congratulating British Columbia and Crossroads for what is projected to be a triumph for the Lord in 1986. A multitude of people will come to EXPO '86, and many will come to see what Crossroads has to offer.

Please continue to pray for Dr. Rod Davison, President of CMF of Canada — continued healing after surgery.
